

Trip To Wilmington Turns To Tragedy

An intended visit to an old friend to offer their sympathy on the death of the friend's husband turned into tragedy for a Watertown couple Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Spruce St., Watertown, were on their way to visit Mrs. E. Skylberg of 875 Main St., whose husband died recently, when a tire went flat in Woburn.

After Mr. Johnson changed the tire and resumed driving to Wilmington, Mrs. Johnson noticed that the car was swaying from side to side. As she looked at her husband she found him slumped over the wheel. The frightened woman took the key from the ignition and attempted to steer the car. It struck the curbing in front of 579 Main St., Woburn and halted.

Woburn police were summoned and took the 56 year old man to the Choate Memorial Hosp., where he was pronounced dead on arrival by Dr. Francis Logue. He had suffered a heart attack. Mrs. Johnson was treated for shock.

Mrs. Skylberg was unaware of the incident until a Crusader reporter called to confirm the story Monday morning.

Members of the cast of the senior class play "On Borrowed Time" meet for rehearsal.

Resignation Of Robert Michalson Accepted

The resignation of Robert Michalson, director of the Urban Renewal Program for Wilmington Square, was accepted at the meeting of the Housing Authority, Sept. 9.

Candidates for the position are being sought among graduates of appropriate courses.

The suggestion was made by Vincent McLean, that Mr. Michalson submit another application for the post, chairman of the Housing Authority, William Smith, reports. He said there is a possibility Mr. Michalson may follow this course.

Co-captains George Munroe, Joe Casey and Billy Rooney indicate fighting spirit of this season's football squad.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING MARKED BY COMPLAINTS

The major portion of Monday's selectmen's meeting was given over to airing of complaints by residents of various areas of the town.

A group from the Shawheen Improvement group appeared to discuss problems relative to their vicinity. Traffic problems, and street repairs were main issues, with a long discussion on legality of various factors of the Nichols St. water vote following.

Three residents of Kelly Rd., annoyed by raised assessments on their homes appeared before the board after a lengthy talk with principal assessor Stanley Webber.

The men declared their assessments had risen with no explanation. They claimed that upon inquiring they were told that a 5% abatement had been removed since the laying of a 6" water main on adjoining Chandler Rd. Since they said they had no low pressure problem, as TM Alfred Calabrese believed, before the laying of the pipe, they did not agree with the raised assessment. The TM said the complaint will be investigated.

Abraham Levy of Grove Ave. appeared to protest a charge by the water dept. for a frozen water meter in a summer camp he owns. He declared he didn't want the meter in the first place and felt he should not have to pay for it.

The Selectmen went into executive session to discuss the signing of a contract with AVCO, details of which were not forthcoming, after discussing various minor items.

John Imbimbo Suggested For Traffic Survey

Sgt. John Imbimbo of the Wilmington police will be asked to conduct a traffic survey by Town Manager Alfred Calabrese, it was announced Monday evening.

The work ordinarily would be done by the Town Engineer, but as he is busy with the highway department in an effort to finish all scheduled work before the cold weather, Sgt. Imbimbo was suggested as the logical man to do the survey.

Firemen To Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Wilmington Firemen's Association will be held on Tuesday evening at the fire station at 8.

FILIPINO OFFICIALS STUDY WILMINGTON POLICE DEPARTMENT

State Police last week chose Wilmington's Police Chief Paul Lynch and his Dept. as a typical town police dept. Capt. Jaun A. Alger and Capt. Cicero C. Campos of the Philippines were brought to Wilmington by state police to study methods of investigation and administration.

Upon their return to the Philippines, the officials will recommend the setting up of similar organizations in their country.

Roland Deming Seriously Ill

Friends will be saddened to hear that Roland Deming of Federal St. is very seriously ill and is a patient at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Roland is the son of Harry Deming also of Federal St. The elder Mr. Deming was Wilmington's first town manager.

Local Riders Win At Kiwanis Show

Among those winning awards at the Kiwanis Horse Show in Woburn last Sunday were Marge Grassia of Chestnut St. who won 1st in Knock Down and Out, Western Stock, Bareback Equitation. She also won a 2nd in Western Parade, 3rd in Obstacle race and 4th in Break and Out.

Ann Humphrey of Chestnut St. won 3rd in Sack Race and Break and Out, and 4th in Western Stock and Western Equitation.

Mary Ann Magee of Chestnut St. won a 1st in Rescue Race.

Accident On Lake St.

The bad curve on Lake St. was the scene of another accident Mon. evening when cars operated by Richard Drew, of 31 Dudley Rd., Tewksbury, was in collision with another automobile, operated by Manuel Coutinho of 222 Shawheen Ave.

Mr. Coutinho is reported to have swerved to avoid a bicyclist. He suffered a cut forehead. Mr. Drew was attended by his own physician. No report of the extent of his injuries is available.

Both cars were badly damaged and had to be towed from the scene.

Officer Charles Dolan is investigating.

Probably the most sought after course in the whole school curriculum is the driver education class offered to the evening class students. Early arrivals are shown at 6:30. Leading the line is Mrs. Dorothy Peters who was on the scene at 4 o'clock.

Deadline For Abatements Oct. 1

Oct. 1 is the last day applications will be accepted for real estate abatements.

Veterans with 10% disability are reminded that they must bring proof of eligibility with them when making application.

Overnight Parking Rates Set

The selectmen moved Monday evening to charge $1.50 a night, starting Sept. 25, for overnight parking in the North Wilmington municipal parking lot.

The action came as the result of the lot being used for dead storage by a resident of the town for the past three months, despite repeated efforts of the selectmen to have an unregistered vehicle removed from the scene.

The owner of the car cited bad times as the reason he had not removed the car.

OUTSIDE AID

The Town Park on Main St. offers an ideal place for sporting events, for large outdoor gatherings of any description. However, there is one serious drawback to the park as a meeting place. That is the lack of toilet facilities.

Use of the park is urged for many activities, particularly since the Common has been brought back to the position of a park, rather than a sandlot.

Attendance at events at Town Park will suffer until such time as adequate sanitary facilities are provided. Although there are those who will object that the woods sufficed for our forebearers, and should for us, the more fastidious among us will agree that spectators will feel more secure if arrangements even if Spartan, are provided.

All Sold Out...

The Lions Ladies held a cake and food sale outside of Tony's doughnut shop Saturday and were all sold out by 11 a.m. Standing behind the empty table is Mrs. Margie Joannides, Louise and Nicky DeFelice. Those of you who didn't get down to buy the baked beans made by Mrs. DeLisle missed the best buy in ages.

A Forgotten Child

The date was Jan. 26, 1918, when a little girl named Martha died in a western Mass. town in the great flu epidemic.

One thing about this particular flu death surprised neighbors: they had not known of Martha's existence. Martha was said to have died shortly after her birth ten years earlier. But for almost a decade, she had been hidden by her parents, kept from the large back yard which had been planned for a family of children who had never been born.

Martha was a Mongoloid child—one of the severely retarded whose entire body bore the marks of the pre-natal shock which had forever stunted her mind.

Her parents, obsessed with feelings of guilt and shame, had sought to preserve their own standing in the community and protect their child from ridicule by shutting her away.

When Martha was born, they resolved that there would be no more children, for fear that all might be similarly handicapped. In the light of today's knowledge about Mongolism and other forms of mental retardation, it seems difficult to believe that parents like Martha's had to face their problem alone just a few generations ago—without counselling, without the understanding of their neighbors, without the reassurance that such a child was born not of "bad blood," but rather because of a prenatal shock.

Today, most general practitioners in even the most isolated rural communities know that a Mongoloid child is born because of a mishap between the fourth and seventh weeks after conception. The spread of knowledge and the acceptance of mentally retarded children by the community go hand in hand.

The same town in which Martha lived is now part of the No. Berkshire County Asso. for Retarded Children, one of the thirty local chapters of the Mass. Asso. for Retarded Children. The state group holds membership in the National Asso. for Retarded Children, Inc., which is in turn part of a world-wide movement to better the status of the mentally retarded.

'28 YEARS AGO IN WILMINGTON

Old Newspaper Shows Problems Much The Same In 1930

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Wilfred Andrews of Woburn St., we have a copy of the Wilmington News, dated Jan. 24, 1930, and numbered Vol. II, No. 4. The News, later to become the Mirror, and yet later the Crusader, began publication in 1929. Previously the Alpha, the high school paper, was sold outside the school as the town's only local news source.

The lead story on Jan. 21, 1930 heralded the arrival of District Attorney Robert V. Bushnell as a speaker before the Republican Club the following Mon. Attendance was limited to members of the club, new members could join at the door.

Other front page stories told of a still operation stopped in West Wilmington; the deaths of Mark S. Babine, and Eugene Shaw, former selectman, on the train to Boston; and the return to the hospital of Morris Weinberg, proprietor of the Wilmington Cash Store.

Many advertisers bought space on the front page, among them the Atlantic Market who offered top round steak at 52c and the best creamery butter at 2 lbs. for 79c. The American filling station on Main St. advertised their quick starting, anti-knock gas at 15c a gal., tax included. The Ames News store asked that customers "Don't ask your Sunday Newsboy for Credit. Pay him at the time of Delivery and encourage him in his work." The Wilmington Builders Supply Co. recommended use of their finance plan to solve roofing problems.

The next two pages of the eight-page, full sized paper held fillers and national ads (Lydia Pinkham even then was with us). The masthead on page four announced that the Wilmington News was printed every Fri. by Editor and Publisher Edgar Sargent and that a three month subscription was available for 50c (one cent a copy extra in Canada).

An editorial, "Two Hundred Years Ago" decried the lack of progress in the town in the two centuries and strongly advocated the raising of funds by subscription rather than by appropriation for the anniversary celebration. An excerpt reads, "Who in this town would refuse to give the small sum of $2.00 by popular subscription? Two dollars for an Anniversary. Two dollars invested in the advertising scheme of the most centrally located town in Middlesex County, the only town with eight railroad centers, and possible lines of shipping to every point of the compass. A town with untold possibilities. Railway passenger service unexcelled. Electric car service. Good schools. Perfect churches, good people, good town officers, untold lands to be used by manufacturing concerns, and last, but not least, the one chance in the entire existence of the Town, to put itistence of the Town, to put it self permanently and forever on the map. A chance to advertise yourself all over the universe for a few dollars, to increase the population of the Town, to increase the number of business establishments, to increase the future possibilities of bringing manufacturing to the town, and to advertise and eventually reduce your tax rate and bring your own properties to be worth something."

A lengthy letter on the same page from A. Chandler Manning, landscape architect advocated turning over to the Park Commissioners the Town Farm for a Memorial park. He also advised that the "Fairbrothers Lot" of 40 acres in the northern part of town, be used for the Boy and Girl Scouts. (Both courses were eventually followed).

"Under Wilmington Spire's" the schedules of the Catholic Church the Wilson Memorial Community Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, the So. Tevksbury M. E. Church and the Congregational Church were given. Bedell Brothers Insurance, W. S. Cavanaugh, funeral director, and E. M. Nichols and Son, Undertakers, advertised on the same page as the Wilmington Bowling Alleys and Pool Room.

Two more pages of fillers followed and on the back page, more town events.

Excerpts from an article entitled "Town Fathers Interview County Commissioners" follows: On Wed., the Board of Selectmen of the Town of Wilmington, Carl S. Pettinghill, Walter L. Hale, Jerome J. O'Leary, together with two members of the Town Safety Committee, Walter Gould Buckle and Charles H. Black, visited the County Commissioners, upon the latter's request, for their purpose of offering some inducement to the County Commissioners to locate the proposed $1,000,000 Jail here in Wilmington." Further on, the article continues "While in the City, the members decided to call on the State Dept. of Public Safety, to see what could be done about Signal lights at the junction of Main, Church and Burlington Ave., right at the peak of the hill and square. This corner was adjudged the worst in the state, and it is not unlikely that signals of some nature will soon be put in operation."

The Wilmington Theatre announced its Grand Opening under new management with "The Girl From Havana," 100 per cent Talkie. A Red Hot Romance, Neath Tropic Skies, featuring Lola Lane and Paul Page. An all star cast with many thrills."

Times have not changed too much in the twenty-eight years since the now yellowed pages were printed. The Wilmington branch of the Reading Co-operative Bank, Joseph B. McMahon, mgr., advised purchase of its shares, and a Municipal Light Company advertisement of the latest in electric ranges showed a young housewife with short hair-do, long waist and short skirt that looked much like the early '38 models.

FAMOUS LITTLE WOMEN OF FACT AND FICTION

QUEEN Victoria, ruler of the British Empire at its height of power, was under five feet.

PRINCESS Margaret of England is exactly five feet.

FEW 'little women' got as much notice as Dionne quintuplets born near Callander, Canada, in 1934.

BEST known "Little Women" of all were in Louisa Alcott's novel of same name, an all-time best seller translated into 15 languages and read by millions throughout the world. About 50 million more will see it as a television musical in October.

CANDIDATE FINNEGAN PROVES TO BE VERY BUSY OFFICIAL

Fred J. Finnegan, a busy, busy man, is one of the many candidates up for re-election to an office in the November general elections. The current Register of Deeds, Fred has been an active man all of his life especially during his term of office and a five year hitch in the U. S. Army.

Elected in 1957 and re-elected in 1958, the Register has brought about many changes in his department, reducing the cost of printing and binding of the records and at the same time increasing the quality.

He has also arranged for a private room where lawyers and the public may exchange legal documents without interference.

As a member of the Army during World War II, Fred received the Purple Heart and nine battle stars. He was a combat engineer.

He received his education at Keith Academy in Lowell and graduated from the Northeastern University Law School, later becoming a member of the Massachusetts and Federal Bar Associations.

Atty. Finnegan said that his office at the Middlesex Superior Court House is open at all times for the benefit of all people from the smallest taxpayer to the largest corporation. An efficient staff is on hand to give service to all, he said.

The Register's memberships include American Legion, V.F.W., D.A.V., Order of Purple Heart, B.P.O.E., and the Clover Club.

SULLIVAN RUNS ON HIS OWN INITIATIVE

In serious contention for the seat in the House of Representatives perennially held by the present incumbent and formally designated as the 5th Congressional District, Attorney William H. Sullivan of Lowell, off to an early and resolute start, is certain he can explode the myth that Middlesex County is a rock-ribbed Republican cinch in a national election.

Running as a Democrat with a long line of family forebears in that party, Attorney Sullivan, with the imagination of youth and the determination of maturity, plans a real grass-roots campaign during which he will personally visit every city and town in the district in an effort to convince voters of both parties that the time is ripe for a new, fresh, and young approach to this district's ever-changing needs.

In substantiation of his claim that Middlesex County need not be automatically Republican, Attorney Sullivan points to the more recent Democratic victories of Howard W. Fitzpatrick for Sheriff and James L. O'Dea for District Attorney, and the earlier triumphs of the late Paul A. Dever in his victorious contest for Attorney General, Lieutenant Governor and Governor. A shift in the Democratic population from cities to towns which were once predominantly in the GOP column is also indicative of the fact that the Fifth district is no longer an open invitation for a Republican shoo-in.

Far from relying on a Democratic sweep, which most political observers feel is in the air this year, Attorney Sullivan seeks to win this contest on his own initiative. A graduate of Georgetown University and of the Law School associated with that renowned institution of learning, Attorney Sullivan spent 7 years in Washington observing the national government in action and he became intensely interested in its various functions. He is not contesting the election for public city or advertising purposes, nor is his future dependent upon latching on to a public payroll. He is simply a young man with the old-fashioned idea that youthful, energy, ambition and unselfish desire to serve should not be stymied by the monotonous re-election of candidates on sentimental grounds alone.

Break And Entry Yields No Loot

Officer Arthur Kelley received a complaint from Tom Connors on September 17. Mr. Connors, owner of the Tydol Gas Station on Main St., reported that a break had been made into his establishment.

Police investigated the report and found that entry had been gained when a rear window in the building had been broken. It has been determined that although a break was made, nothing had been taken from the premises.

Accident On Salem St., 3 Injured

Three persons were injured, none seriously when the cars in which they were riding were involved in a collision on Salem St., near Welch's Brook on Sept. 17.

George R. Crowley of 12 Concord St., No. Reading, travelling in a westerly direction (toward Woburn St.) signaled a left turn intending to turn his vehicle around and return to No. Reading. He pulled slightly into the driveway of Cronin's Sand Pit, giving George J. Dozois, of Barley St., Lawrence, who was travelling in the same direction, the impression that he intended to make a right turn in spite of the left turn signal.

Dozois' continued straight ahead and when Crowley made the left swing to reverse his direction, he was struck on the left side by Dozois. The impact caused severe damage to both vehicles. Crowley's car was pushed over the embankment and when Dozois came to a stop his vehicle was diagonally across Salem St.

Both drivers were injured, but not enough to require immediate medical attention. Mrs. Dozois, who was riding with her husband was also injured, although not seriously. Both vehicles were towed to Cin's Garage.

Officer Edward Sullivan investigated the accident.

Theft Of Tools From Richards Electric Co.

Employees of the Richards Electric Co., presently engaged in work on the new wing at the high school, reported to police that several items had been taken from them. The complaint was made on September 17.

Included among the tools stolen were a tripod vial which was valued at approximately $50.00 and a set of "tin knockers" tools which was valued at $30.00. These items had been left outside the building, but were secured with chains. The chains had been cut with a pair of bolt cutters.

Officer George Fuller is investigating the theft.

Sgt. John Imbimbo is investigating the theft.

The eagerly awaited completion date for the high school addition is set for late December, weather permitting. The addition, shown above, was due to have the roofing started this week if the concrete slab, poured recently, dried enough. The wet weather has further delayed the work slowed when floor joists and door frames did not arrive on time. This was through no fault of the contractor, Morris and Son of Lowell, according to clerk of works Col. Henry Harrison. Partitions are 90% completed and glazing is due soon. Work on the glazed tile, plumbing, heating and electrical work is progressing satisfactorily.

Workmen are shown laying pipe in Woburn St. sewer line as work nears completion on the project, much delayed by ledge deposit and water.

A Note Of Thanks

His Excellency Archbishop Cushing has transferred me to St. Leo's parish, Dorchester after seven and a half years in St. Thomas'. Since the change is effective this week, I will not have the opportunity to thank the people of Wilmington personally for their friendship and kindness over the years.

Rest assured they are greatly appreciated and will never be forgotten.

Wilmington

Church Council

The Religious Education Committee of the Church Council is planning a teachers' training institute for this Fall. The committee consists of Rev. Stanley Cummings, chairman and three representatives of the churches.

George Webster (Methodist), Fred Miller (Baptist), and David Cox (Congregational).

As now projected the tentative dates will be Oct. 14, 21 and 28, from 7:30 to 9:30 each evening. The emphasis will be on general teaching methods, as they apply to teaching in the Nursery and Beginners Dept., the Primary Dept., and the Junior Dept. It is hoped that experts can be secured from out of town to take charge of each class.

The institute is designed not only for those who are now teaching but also for any persons who feel that the help offered will enable them to accept teaching positions in the various church schools of Wilmington.

To help defray the expenses a nominal fee of 25 cents will be charged each evening for all who attend.

Another current project of the Church Council has to do with the United Clothing Appeal. A box has been placed in each of the churches to which contributions may be brought. The primary need is for men's clothing, especially suits, trousers and work shoes. Also necessary are children's clothing of all sizes, and women's clothing, including under garments, hosiery, flat-heeled sturdy shoes, dresses and suits. Clothing should be marked as to what sex and age group they are for.

Wakefield reported to Wilmington Police that they had treated a gun shot wound for Merle Ulrickson of Park St.

Sgt. Imbimbo investigated the report and questioned Mr. Ulrickson as to how he received the injury. Ulrickson explained that he had been doing some target practice in his cellar.
When he fired his 32 calibre at the target, the bullet ricocheted off the cellar wall and struck him in the left arm.

Little League

The annual banquet and award night of the Wilmington Little League will take place this Sat. evening, Sept. 27 at the high school cafeteria and auditorium at 6 pm.

Because of the limited space in the cafeteria, only Little Leaguers, accredited officials of the Wilmington Little League and the Little League Auxiliary, and invited guests may attend the banquet. However, parents and friends of Little Leaguers are cordially invited to view the ceremonies in the auditorium following the banquet.

If the evening goes according to plan, the banquet will be completed between 7:30 and 8 pm at which time everyone will enter the auditorium to enjoy a program which will include entertainment for the boys, trophy awards to the winning major league and minor league teams, and other presentations. All Little League players are urged to be at the high school cafeteria entrance at 6 pm, Sat. evening.

Booster Comments

This year the Wilmington Booster Asso. has been allowed to run a refreshment stand at all the home football games.

They plan on serving for your convenience delicious hot dogs and coffee, if weather is chilly, or ice cream and coke if weather is warm.

All profits made on these sales will go into the Booster's Athletic fund, which enables them to buy jackets, sweaters, and trophies for all eligible athletics, and the spring banquet.

Remaining funds are used to start a scholarship fund. Last year we were able to award $100 scholarship.

We certainly hope you will patronize our stand, for the success of the association depends upon you and your cooperation.

See you Sat. at the Wilmington, Burlington game.

Our booster thought for the week . . . "The trouble with youth, is, too many critics, and not enough models."
